Informed consent for occlusal equilibration

Patient name	Date
Dentist
Selective reshaping of the chewing surfaces of teeth, with the stress relieve the muscle in the head and neck suspension as
Occlusal equilibration
Following preconditioning appliance ther	ару
I, the undersigned, have sought or have been referred to the equilibration, which I understand is a means of altering the that when my teeth come together, the temporomandibular position. I fully understand the importance of the history the with the dentist's examination, indicated that the symptoms improved.	chewing surfaces of some or all of my teeth, so joints (jaw joints) are in better anatomical nat I have given to the dentist, which together
I understand that the dentist does not guarantee any outcome of my teeth, and in fact, I have been informed by the dentist occur despite the exercise of the dentist's skill and care. The a worsening of my condition, to loss of a portion of tooth en prove unsound andrequire restoration, including the replace of a tooth or teeth by removing additional amounts of tooth may require additional cost; pain in the face and jaw; chewi	that there are possible complications that can ese complications include but are not limited to namel; the possibility that a tooth or teeth may cement of existing restorations; the rebuilding a structure and replacing it with a crown, which
I further understand that additional dental services may be equilibration and additional recommended dental care and presented by the dentist, if one has been discussed and agrequilibration is required there may be some change in the a increased sensitivity to temperature extremes. The dentist approaches to occlusal equilibration, such as occlusal appliadentistry and orthognathic surgery. Although all these option I have selected occlusal equilibration.	treatment as set forth in the treatment plan eed upon. I further understand that if extensiv ppearance of the teeth and mouth and some has explained to me that there are other ance therapy, orthodontics, reconstructive
I fully consent to receiving occlusal equilibration from the charges related thereto, which have been previously and full
Patient signature/legally authorized representative	Date
Tutient signature/regully authorized representative
	Relationship
Printed name if signed on behalf of the patient
Do atom sign atoms	Date
Doctor signature

7/15